PCIA CONGRATULATES THE KENTUCKY WIRELESS ASSOCIATION ON ITS OFFICIAL LAUNCH

(LOUISVILLE, KY - NOVEMBER 16, 2006) – The Kentucky Wireless Association (KWA) held its kickoff event at Churchill Downs, forming the thirteenth state wireless association. Mike Meadows, Crown Castle serves as the President of KWA.

“PCIA is proud to support the State Wireless Association Program,” said PCIA President & CEO Michael Fitch. “Each state wireless association is unique, representing local interests and priorities. The Kentucky Wireless Association can help to educate decision makers about the needs and benefits of the wireless industry.”

The Kentucky Wireless Association event featured over 100 attendees. For more information about the KWA, please visit www.kentuckywireless.org. For more information about the State Wireless Associations Program, please visit www.swaprogram.net.

About PCIA: PCIA – the Wireless Infrastructure Association, is the principal trade association representing the companies that make up the wireless telecommunications and broadcast infrastructure industry. PCIA’s members own and manage more than 65,000 telecommunications towers and antenna facilities that support analog, digital and broadcast services across the country.
